

Kim Anh
1st Dan black belt

My name is Kimanh Than, I want to share with all of you in ASKA families that Earning my Black Belt was a difficult but meaningful journey. I had to work and study at the same time, so training was not always easy. Many days, I felt tired after work, but I still tried my best to attend class and practice.

I trained under my master Hien Pham year after year and continued learning with patience. After I got married and had a child, including my couple business...my training was interrupted for some time. However, I did not give up. I returned to training whenever I could and stayed committed to my goal.

Achieving the Black Belt shows my perseverance and dedication. It reminds me that even with life challenges, hard work and determination can lead to success.
